National Electoral Commission Sierra Leone

National Civil and Voter Registration, 2017

Observers Code of Conduct

ROLES AND RESPONSIBILITIES OF ELECTION OBSERVERS

Observers have an important role to help ensure that the Voter Registration process is carried out in accordance with legal regulations and procedures. They must agree to follow a Code of Conduct prepared by NEC. The following should be read in conjunction with electoral legal provisions.

DOMESTIC/INTERNATIONAL OBSERVERS

1. Domestic observers will be accredited by the NEC District Electoral Offices in the district in which they are based or intend to observe the voter registration process. International observers will be accredited by the NEC in Freetown only.
2. Electoral observers must at all times, while observing wear accreditation badges issued by NEC. Observers may enter a Registration Centre from the time that the registration officials arrive, and may stay until they are finished with the registration activities.
3. Observers may witness all processes in the Registration Centre. They may make their own record of serial numbers of forms or any relevant document.
4. At no point during the registration process are observers allowed to handle sensitive Registration Centre materials.

5. Electoral observers should not interfere in the registration process. They cannot raise any concerns with the registration officials, but should bring their concerns to the attention of the NEC instead.

6. The whole exercise of the registration process will not be affected if no observer is present at the registration centre.

7. If present during the daily counting activities, copy registration figures from the Daily Accounting Form; Sign the Daily Accounting Form.
